Challenge Problem 22: Cross-Inward

A square is subdivided into 9 equal squares, and the middle square of each outer edge is shaded. Then this process is repeated inside the center square. giving a sequence of smaller shaded squares. This process is repeated forever. What portion of the original square is shaded?